THE PROBLEM

Tradespeople and SMEs lose time before the job even starts.

In France and Portugal, take-offs and quotes tie up teams; homeowners struggle with permit applications.

01

LOST DAYS

Take-offs and quotes prepared by hand, one file at a time.

Productive time diverted from the site and the client.

02

COSTLY ERRORS

Quantities and omissions are hard to spot on plans.

Fragile estimates undermine decisions and margins.

03

PAPERWORK

Permit applications require gathering and preparing many documents.

An administrative process that is hard for homeowners to follow.

The takeaway: essential, repetitive tasks that are still hard to standardise.

THE SOLUTION

A digital copilot, from plan to deliverables.

For construction tradespeople and SMEs in France and Portugal, and for homeowners applying for permits.
